Among our Business Men.

The NEWS desires to give a sketch of each of the leading merchants of this city. The object is to show to the State how much business this city carries on; to illustrate its commercial importance by the publication of statistics in all the leading articles of merchandise and particularly in cotton, dry goods, meat and grain.

J. P. GULLEY.

The name of this gentleman, though comparatively young, is familiar to the people of this city and the surrounding country, as being largely and extensively associated with the dry goods trade, and contributing no little to the growth and development of the general trade and commerce of our State capitol. He naturally takes a practical and liberal view of all subjects, and, like all successful business men, has a deep interest in everything calculated to build up and develop not only our commerce, but every industry.

Mr. Gulley was born in Wake county, in 1844, and was raised a farmer, and is now thirty-five years of age. The great war between the States coming on in 1862, while yet scarcely seventeen years of age, he volunteered in Company C, 53d N. C. State Troops, and shared in all its trials and hardships, and, it is needless to say, though a boy, he bore himself gallantly and won a high reputation for coolness and courage in his regiment. He was only once slightly wounded. When the war was over he returned to the home of his childhood and assisted his father in the cultivation of his farm. In 1869 he and his brother L. J. Gulley and Z. T. Bynum formed a copartnership under the name of Gulley, Bynum & Co., and at once commenced business in the store now occupied by himself, and continued business for one year, when the firm was dissolved by the withdrawal of Mr. Bynum. He and his brother then formed the copartnership of J. P. Gulley & Bro., and continued the business together until July, 1874, when L. J. Gulley's health failing he retired from the business, leaving the subject of this sketch sole proprietor. Since then he has been alone in the trade. Starting with a small capital, they had at first to struggle for existence, but soon began and built up a prosperous trade—amounting, the first year, to over $25,000. Under his skillful and well directed management the business has continued to increase and prosper, and for several years has averaged from $75,000 to $85,000 per annum, and in the aggregate he has sold nearly six hundred thousand dollars worth of goods, falling but little behind the largest and most successful dry goods houses of the city. From the start he has made a specialty of a general dry goods business, and keeping on hand every thing demanded by his trade, including an extensive stock of ready made clothing, hats, boots and shoes. He has never sought the wholesale trade, preferring to confine himself to his original idea of a general retail business.

There is no house in the city where you would be more likely to find what you want or need, for he keeps everything in his line. Having made a success of his business and provided himself with the means, there is nothing to prevent his stepping to the front and soon becoming one of the merchant princes of the State. It gives us pleasure thus to note and place upon record the success of our enterprising young men.

The North not Ready.

St. Louis Republican,

There is no doubt about it; the south is becoming "too numerous" in office. It is not that a southern man is not just as capable and honest as any other, but it is not politic for the ex-confederates to thrust themselves forward too aggressively as office-holders. You may pile reasons mountain high to show the thing is all right, but when all is said that can be said, the whole fabric of excuse will tumble under the weight of the one practical fact that the north is not ready for that sort of thing. It doesn't matter what should be; the matter of real, vital importance is what is.

The Whooping-Up Business.

New York Times.

The legislation of the country, so far as the senate is concerned, is once more in the hands of the south—a south which is always solid when the distribution of power and place is in question. Unless Speaker Randall's hand forgets its cunning, the roll of the house committees will show an equal preponderance in favor of our lately erring brethren. Eighteen years ago these gentlemen were sitting in the capitol plotting treason against the republic. To-day, spared by an unparalleled magnanimity, they are back again in their old places, obsequiously attended by the old-time northern doughfaces, and ready to give us laws and government.

A Prosperous Enterprise.

From Portland Argus.

The Suez canal has proved a highly profitable concern to those who went in it just at the right time. The 400,000 shares of stock of a par value of 5000 francs, or $100, which once sold down to 100 francs each, are now quoted at over 700. The British government bought 176,602 shares in 1875, which are now worth $5,000,000 more than when Beaconsfield took them. The canal is without locks, and the man who managed it from the first says a canal across the Isthmus of Panama must be similarly constructed to pay.

A Tremendous Force.

From Gen. Joe Hawley's Hartford Courant.

If the gentlemen who are supposed to be engineering events so as to insure the nomination of Gen. Grant for President in 1880 are wise, they will sit down with their utmost ponderosity upon the absurd project of a traveling mass convention of 50,000 people to meet the general at San Francisco and escort him across the continent. There are a multitude of good reasons which might be offered, but the scheme is so manifestly ill-advised that it is hardly worth while to treat it as anything else than the invention of a few railroad sharpers.

A Disinterested Statesman.

N. Y. Star.

Congressman O'Reilley has gone back to Brooklyn to resume his seat in the common council of that city. It seems that the fate of Brooklyn as well as that of the nation depends upon this man, and he is disposed to so distribute himself that both Brooklyn and the Nation shall be saved.

Child Poisoned.

Correspondence of the News.

ENFIELD, March 27.

A colored nurse employed in the family of Geo. W. Branch, on Tuesday poisoned one of his children, aged two years, by giving it strychnine. The motive is supposed to have been that the nurse was prevented from attending some religious meetings at night by the wakefulness of the child. The parents are deeply distressed. The nurse was taken to Halifax jail to-day, and will be tried for murder at the next court. X.

Democratic Policy.

Correspondent of the News.

JOINT CAUCUS OF THE TWO HOUSES OF CONGRESS.

The joint caucus of the Democrats of the Senate and House was held today in the Hall of the House of Representatives presided over by Hon. Heister Clymer in absence of the permanent, President Hon. John. F. House, who was detained at his rooms by sickness. The joint committee made a unanimous report, which report was agreed to by the joint caucus with great unanimity. In fact the entire proceedings of the caucus were marked by the most fraternal and kindly spirit, but with a firmness and determination that showed that the positions taken would be maintained to the end. In the language of Speaker Randall, the result of caucus will crytilize the Democratic party into a solid body that would defy the attacks of the enemies of the people, free elections and fair trials in the courts.

The report recommends the action of the House of the 45th Congress, and directs the attaching to the appropriation bills the repeal of the jurors test oath, the martialing of soldiers at or near the election precincts, the officers and services of marshals and deputy marshals at the elections, and the appointment of Supervisors, except, so far, that one Supervisor of each political party may be appointed, who shall serve only one day, without power to arrest or in any way interfere in the election and shall simply act as lookers on.

Various speeches were made expressing different shades of opinion but none in opposition to the repeal of the odious, tyrannical and obnoxious measures. It was a very full caucus, and excellent speeches were made, and the country may rest assured that the Democracy is thoroughly united and will stand firm upon these vital questions, in which the liberties of the people are so deeply involved.

Anecdote of Victoria.

Queen Victoria was not twenty years of age when she ascended the throne. Coming into possession of power with a heart fresh, tender and pure, with all her instincts inclined to mercy, we may be sure that she found many things that tried her strength and resolution to the utmost.

On a bright beautiful morning, the young Queen was waited upon at her palace at Windsor, by the Duke of Wellington, who had brought from London various papers requiring her signature to render them operative. One of them was a sentence of a court martial, pronounced against a soildier of the line—that sentence that he be shot dead.

The Queen looked upon the paper and then looked upon the wondrous beauties that nature spread to her view.

"What has this man done?" she asked.

The Duke looked at the paper and replied:

"Ah, my royal mistress, that man I fear is incorrigible. He has deserted three times."

"And can you not say anything in his behalf, my lord?,"

Wellington shook his head.

"Oh, think again, I pray you."

Seeing that her majesty was so deeply moved and feeling sure that she would not have the man shot in any event finally confessed that the man was brave and gallant, and really a good soldier.

"But" he added, "think of the influence."

"Influence!" cried Victoria, her eyes flashing, and her bosom heaving with strong emotion. "Let it be ours to wield influence. I will try mercy in this man's case and I charge you, your grace, to let me know the result. A good soildier, you said, Oh! I thank you for that. And you may tell him that your good wood work save him."

Then she took the paper, and wrote with a bold, firm hand, across the dark page, the bright saving word, "Pardoned!"

Senator Hampton's Health.

Augusta Chronicle.

A gentleman who returned to this city yesterday from a brief visit to Senator Hampton, at Green Pond, brings the cheering news of his continued good health. His wound had caused some pain of late, but the distinguished invalid was progressing as well as could be expected, and was so well Friday last that he spent the day in fishing. It is thought there will be no necessity for clipping the bone of the amputated limb.

An Independent Discovery.

Springfield Republican.

So far, the controlling Democratic element at Washington is moderate. The committee appointed by the chairman of the last House caucus does not at all represent the extreme speeches made then.

Mr. J. L. Stone.

The efforts of this young man who has been doing an extensive Sewing Machine business in this city, for the past six years has pushed his business beyond the period of experiment. Mr. Stone is one of the most energetic Sewing Machine agents in the State. He has sold 200 of the celebrated "New Home" Machine since Jan. 1st., and since he began business his sales have amounted to 2000 machines which approximates $120,000. He deals in all kinds of machines and sells at the following prices. New Home $40, Singer $30, New American $25, Domestic $37.50, New Wheeler & Wilson $30, White $60. These machines are all new and the latest improved.

The Poindexter Trial.

Richmond Dispatch 27 h.

THE YOUNG LADY'S STATEMENT.

Miss Isabel Cottrell came into the court-room escorted by Attorney General Field. She was dressed in black and was closely veiled. At the request of counsel for defence she took off her veil. She gave her testimony with great composure. She said: In January last, I think, was the first time I was ever in the store of Wingo, Ellett & Crump. That was certainly the first time I ever saw the young man (Mr. Curtis.) I went into the store for a pair of shoes. I wanted to try them on, and he brought them and wanted to put them on me. I told him I would put them on. He held them and insisted upon buttoning them. I took them and put them on, and finally allowed him to button three buttons. He insisted on buttoning it all the way, and I found some difficulty in preventing him. When I took up my own shoe he insisted on lacing it up for me, and he stooped down at my foot and remained there until I changed my position. That was the first time.

SECOND AND THIRD MEETING OF CURTIS.

Two or three weeks afterwards witness went into the store again about a pair of shoes, and deceased insisted on her trying them on in the store; which she utterly refused to do.

On the third occasion I went to leave a pair and to have plates put upon another pair. Mr. Curtis opened the bundle and held up the pair I had been wearing, and said: "What a pretty little shoe! You certainly have a pretty little foot. I don't see how you can walk, any way." I said, "You'll oblige me by not commenting on my foot. Please show me the plates." He said he would, and asked me to walk back. He showed me the plates. I told him to use his own discretion about them. He asked me to have a seat. I said no, I would go over to Tyler's, where my friend was waiting for me. I went over to Tyler's and returned in about ten minutes. When I went back into the store he called a youth to bring me the shoes. He would not allow me to take them in my hands. I saw he had put on them old plates. I told him that I thought the old plates an imposition. (There was then some conversation about the price of the plates.)

CURTIS' ADVANCE UPON THE LADY.

Mr. Curtis asked me how I wore my heels off, and to put my foot out and let him see it. I refused. He insisted, and advanced upon me—I thought to throw my dress aside.

There was then some little conversation about the change, which witness related in full. He said that she didn't leave but 75 cents. She said she would rectify the mistake, and started back with him. Then he said, "Yes, you did, too." At the same time he opened his hand, where he had a dollar concealed, having left the 75 cents on the counter. He said: "I certainly could have made that dollar easy." I made no reply. I was provoked, and said as little as possible.

THE LADY AT THE PHAETON.

When I got into the phaeton I was much offended and I so expressed myself to Mrs. Bowles—

The Commonwealth's Attorney: Never mind what you said to her. It is no evidedce.

Mr. Young contended that it was, and explained why he thought so.

The Commonwealth's Attorney would cheerfully admit what she said to Mrs. Bowles if defence would consent to allow the statements of the dead man to third parties to come in.

After a brief argument the Court said that the witness might state whether or not she said anything to Mrs. Bowles—not what she said.

The witness then said she made known her feelings to Mrs. Bowles; that complaint was made to Mrs. Bowles just as soon as we started off.

MR. POINDEXTER'S VISIT TO THE LADY.

To Mr. Young: That was on the Friday proceeding the shooting. I saw Mr. Poindexter the Sunday afterwards. He came to my house and sent a messenger to ask if I would like to go to the country. He was going to his farm and he asked if I wanted to go up to my brother's. During the drive I related all this about Curtis, except about the young man squeesing my arm, which I told him after we got back home. He expressed great indignation, and we both agreed that the young man was very insulting. He stopped at his farm a few minutes and then we went to my brothers. My brother was not at home and we came immediately back and reached home about 2 o'clock. Mr. Poindexter spent the afternoon and evening with me. I live with my brother-in-law, Mr. Alvis, near the new reservoir.

THE TALK IN THE LADY'S PARLOR.

I think it was in the evening just before tea; we were sitting in the parlor—Mr. Poindexter and I. I occupied a rocking-chair immediately before the fire, and I think he was sitting to my left. He took up a book I had been reading, and in which there was a letter of mine. I remarked to him that he shouldn't read that letter. He said he would. I told him he should not. He held the letter off from me in his hand. I started to grab it, and at the same time got up. At the same time he caught hold of my arm and made me sit back in the chair. I turned to him and said, "That reminds me of some more of that young man's impudence at the shoe-store."

Then I said to him that Curtis squeezed my arm in a very ungentlemanly way when I got into the phaeton. He had been laughing before, but I noticed his expression change, and he said, He did? I said, "He did."

I noticed that he was very angry, and he said, "I'll horsewhip that fellow." He said, "What day were you at the store?" I said, "Last Friday." He then asked me for a description of Curtis, and said, "Is he a bigger fellow than I am? if he is I might be afraid to attack him." I said, "You are taller; but I expect he is the heavier and stronger of the two." I turned to him and said, "Give me my letter." He said in a jocular manner, "I won't do anything of the kind." The tea-bell rang and nothing more was said on the subject.

NEWS OF THE SHOOTING.

When I told him about Mr. Curtis squeezing my arm I noticed his expression was one of great anger. He left my house about 11 p. m., or just before. I first heard of the occurrence [shooting, &c.] about 2 or 3 o'clock the next afternoon from Mr. Thomas Poindexter. When I first saw Mr. Thomas Poindexter I was very much surprised. He was not in the habit of visiting me. I didn't think Mr. John Poindexter intended to carry out his threats, and when Mr. Thomas Poindexter told me an accident had happened down town—

The Commonwealth's Attorney objected to the witness reciting her conversation with Mr. Thomas Poindexter.

Considerable argument followed between the Commonwealth's Attorney and counsel for defence. Defence failed to get in the lady's conversation with Mr. Thomas Poindexter, but prevailed as to getting in her impressions.

Young American.

Yonker's Gazette.

"Johnnie!" said a systematic and indulgent father, "you have greatly offended me, and I shall be compelled to punish you; but as I never do anything rashly, I will give you time to prepare yourself. At what hour will you be ready?" "Well, governor," answered the youth of much classical development, "if you can make it convenient to meet me at the gymnasium at about 3 p. m., I think I can give you and energeting interview.

A Chinese Opinion.

THE CELESTIALS DISPOSED FORM A KNOW-NOTHING PARTY.

New York World.

Charles Wing, a segar-maker of this city, was yesterday naturalized, so far as it lay in the power of a State court to naturalize him, and renounced his allegiance to the Brother of the Sun and of the Moon. His papers were issued by Judge Larremore, of the Court of Common Pleas, and Mr. Wing now considers himself a citizen of the United States—though that is not clear—and entitled to all the rights and privileges due such citizenship, as he is willing to accept all the responsibilities. Mr. Wrong Lee appeared as Mr. Wing's witness, and testified that the latter had been a resident of the United States for at least five years. Mr. Lee himself took out his papers very recently. A reporter found Mr. Wing at No. 40 Chrystie street. The Celestial was found occupying apartments in a "rear" tenement house, and when the reporter entered was putting a little "chi" in the stove preparatory to making a cup of tea.

"Oh, yes," said Mr. Wing, "I got zitizen pape to-day. I wantee be same like Melican man. I go to Key West, makee cigal same like makee cigal in New Yo'k. When get Key West City show zitizen pape like New Yo'k city, Boston city, allee samee."

"How long have you lived in the United States?" asked the reporter.

"Live in Melica countly eight yeah. Leave China countly sixteen yeah old and live in Havana city one yeah, then come New Yo'k city. New Yo'k bully city. Canton bully city allee samee."

"Well, Mr. Wing, now that you are a citizen, I suppose you are going to vote. Will you vote with Mr. Blaine's party or Mr. Hayes'?"

"No votee yet—(with a laugh)—when 'lection time come, no vote for Ilishman, but Melican man and Yankee man. Ilishman say Chinaman 'must go.' Ilishman no likee Chinaman. Chinaman no likee Ilishman allee samee. Samee you likee Challey Wing, Challey Wing likee you. Challey Wing good fellow, not done anyting bad; an' you say Challey Wing bad fellow. Challey Wing no likee you allee samee. Ilishman got a pape in Washington city say Chinaman must go. Chinaman want to wollek. Ilishman no wantee wollek. Chinaman votee for Melican man, Yankee man and Englishman; not for Ilishman."

Colonel Valentine Baker has published his narrative of the campaign in Bulgaria.

A New York friend of Senator Wade Hampton has sent to him a pair of silver mounted rosa-wood crutches.

Colonel Jerome Bonaparte sailed from Havre for Baltimore on the 15th instant. Madame Patterson Bonaparte anxiously looks forward to meeting her grandson. She has a great deal of physical strength left yet and her intellect is unclouded.

Of Mr. Longfellow, as he appears at present, a correspondent of The Inter-Ocean, of Chicago, says: "He is rather short and slender, and betokens a sensitive fibre in every movement. His hair and beard are white, with here and there a tinge of light brown remaining. A bald peak runs back from his forehead on each side. His face is bright with interest, despite the folds in his cheeks. His complexion is clear and red, and indicates good health. His snowy eye-brows are slightly arched, and his brighi blue eyes beam with expression constantly. His beard is not as long and abundant as Bryant's was, but though full, follows and preserves the lines of his face."

A great many young editors, those connected with the Springfield Republican, for instance, fail to understand the popular hatred of Jeff Davis, because they have grown up since the war. THE DEPARTURE OF QUEEN VICTORIA FOR ITALY—THE SOUTH AFRICAN OFFICERS—NEGOTIATIONS WITH YAKOOB KHAN—A GLOOMY FINANCIAL OUTLOOK—WARLIKE PREPARATIONS OF TURKEY.

Washington Post.

LONDON, March 25.—The Times' Vienna dispatch says: The Russian circular draws attention to the state of unreadiness in which the time fixed for the evacuation will probably find Eastern Roumelia. It is scarcely to be expected that the new constitution, which is now being elaborated, can be introduced by that time, nor that the organization of the militia and gendarmere can be far enough advanced to offer security for the maintenance of internal order as contemplated by the Congress. The circular suggests that the international commission, if supported by a mixed corps, could, after completing the constitution, and having it sanctioned by the Porte in Constantinople, return to Phillippopolis, and in concert with the governor appointed by Turkey superintend the introduction of a constitution. From the communications already exchanged between the powers there seems to be every probability of the Russian proposal being favorably received by all except Turkey. Thus Italy, toward the end of 1878, broached the idea of mixed occupation, which was then deemed premature. Austria had already proposed it at that Congress; while, to judge by the past, France is not likely to separate herself from the other powers. England, since the complications in Eastern Roumelia, has taken up the idea, and it cannot be supposed that Count Schouvaloff would have advocated it at St. Petersburg had he found the general feeling hostile. The Porte will doubtless regard the project as a blow aimed at the Sultan's authority, but the conditions of the scheme may do much to overcome its objections. Even according to the Russian suggestion, Turkey, as a signatory power could contribute a part of the occupying force, and the term of occupation would be definitely fixed. Even if mixed occupation be accepted in principle, it will take time to fix the details, and negotiations must proceed expeditiously if the mixed corps is to be on the spot in time to replace the Russians. Probably with a view to await the result of the circular, the Czar's journey to Livadia has been postponed. The Times' Constantinople correspondent telegraphs that the consent of the Porte, which at present is an essential condition of the mixed occupation project, would not be easily obtained.

The Neuefreie Presse, of Vienna, says the Porte has formally protested against the systematic expulsion of Mohammedans from Eastern Roumelia by the Bulgarians.

The Democratic Senators made a mistake in pleading republican precedents. The country will put their own party in power, not because it is as as good, but because it shows itself better than the Republican party.

A day of revenge must come for the maligned cow as for other slandered folks. One in Ohio broke a man's neck by a kick. Even a mule could have done no better, unless he had kicked the man's head entirely off his shoulders.

The New York Sun admires Gov. Robinson less than it once did, and has discovered that Gov. Seymour may run again for Governor. The great advocate for cheese as an army ration, however, says that he is out of politics.

But if he is a husband of a high-tempered wife, it is ten to one that he will get a champion "belt" or something similar if he refuses to get up and walk.

There has been a virulent case of mother-in-law in Paris. The old lady not only confessed that she had scraped a bundle of match ends into the husband's soup while the wife was out of the room, but expressed keen regret that the poison was not strong enough to kill the man, and said she would do better next time.

The anti-Chinese party in the California Constitutional Convention failed to secure the insertion into the new Constitution of the proposed two sections which prohibit the residence of persons in that State who are ineligible to become citizens, and prohibiting persons "ineligible to citizenship" to fish in California rivers and hold, lease or purchase real property.

Boy's Way And Girl's Way.

Children, stop your play,
And tell me which way
I shall take to reach the city on the hill?
First the girl,
With a smile:—
"This way;
Through the woods, across the stile,
By a brook where wild flowers grow,
Where the birds sing sweet and low;
Then you forget it is so far,
And how tired you are.
For the calm rests you, makes you still,
If you take this way to the city on the hill."
Then the boy,
With a frown;—
"This way;
By the mill and through the town—
You will see the soldiers there,
Hear the drums and pass the fair;
Then you forget the way is long
While you walk in the throng
For the noise wakes you, makes you thrill,
When you go this way to the city on the hill."

DAILY NEWS

FRIDAY, - MARCH 28, 1879.

HUSSE Y & JORDAN, Prop's

JOHN B. HUSSEY, - Editor

LOUISIANA seems in a fair way to have a constitutional convention of good material next month. The New Orleans Times says that nine out of ten of the repudiators were beaten in last week's election, and that speaks well for the maintenance of the state's honor. The democrats, of course, will control the convention, for in a number of parishes the republicans endorsed the democratic candidates or had none of their own.

MEMPHIS finds that she has not sloughed off trouble with her corporate existence by any means. The receiver appointed by the United States circuit court, at the instance of the city's creditors, has been at work collecting back taxes and seizing all of the late city's assets that he could get hold of. But Gov. Marks has also appointed a receiver, by the Tennessee Legislature's direction, and he claims the right to hold everything for the state. Meanwhile commissioners are trying to arrange the affairs of the present taxing district, and the issues at stake between the opposing receivers will probably be settled in May, when Judge Baxter of the circuit court and Justice Swayne of the United States supreme court visit the city to settle the questi ns relating to the legal status.

ANOTHER curious Phenomenon of sound is the singing book, now a philosophical toy. Thanks to M. Pollard, Navy Engineer of Cherbourg, it is within every intelligent person's reach. You place a small book on the table, the floor or a chimney-piece, and presently it distinctly emits songs, sacred and profane, or duets by a piona, or harp and violin solos. The book is composed of ordinary paper, leaves of the latter, alternating with some of tin. The metal leaves are united, the last two with an electric current, forming thus a condenser. The top and bottom sides of the volume communicate with an electric wire running along the wall, but concealed, and terminating in a pile in another room, where the speaker or the singer etc., "deposits" the sounds of his voice in a wooden mouthpiece containing a metal plate and a stylus, which, touching a spring, sets free the electric current and transmits the sound to the book, where it is repeated—a phenomenon not yet capable of being satisfactorily explained.—Paris Letter.

The Senate and its Officers.

The election of Secretary of the Senate, Sergeant-at-Arms, Chief Clerk and Executive Clerk caused much discussion and some curious arguments in the Senate. It was well understood that the Democrats, having a majority, would do as the Republicans had done before them in removing those officers not of their party and putting in men of their own party. But the Republican Senators, feeling sore at losing the power and patronage of the Senate, could not let the occasion pass without talking about lofty patriotism, Civil Service reform and the alleged extraordinary merits of their friends who are superseded. It was really funny when Conkling and others who have been most proscriptive in depriving Democrats of office and using their influence to control patronage for their supporters, talked about the impropriety of the majority giving the offices to the Democrats. Mr. Gorham, the Secretary now superseded, was one of the most active Republican campaigners, and no one was more bitter toward the Democrats. All the removed officers, in fact, are ardent Republican partisans. Apart, then, from the question of disposing of the Senate patronage by the majority, it would have been inconvenient to have kept these men as officers of a Democratic Senate. The officers of that body have no inconsiderable influence indirectly in political affairs, and are in a position to do mischief, through investigating committees and otherwise, to the Senators and party they may be opposed to. It would have been simply absurd to have kept officers inimical to the majority of the Senate. The Democrats have only followed the universal practice in the legislative bodies of this country and the example set by the Republicans.

U. S. Marshals and Supervisors.

It is now universally conceded that the Jurors' Test Oath and the clause permitting the employment of troops at the polls will both be effaced from our Federal statute-book before the adjournment of Congress. Both houses are resolved to pass the requisite measures of repeal, and the President dare scarcely exercise his veto prerogative upon them.

Yielding reluctantly to the inevitable, our Radical cotemporaries now begin to concentrate their fire on the proposed abolition of United States Marshals and Supervisors of Election. They trumpet forth the familiar cry that Democrats do not want free and fair elections; but they should not be quite so hasty. Our clever and watchful cotemporary, the Washington Post, outlines what is likely to be the action of Congress in regard to these Marshals and Supervisors, and what will be a grievous disappointment to the Radical cohorts. What Democrats d desire is free and fair elections; therefore the Democrats in Congress, while stripping Johnny Davenport and his colleagues of the power to repeat their bull-dozing operations in New York, Ohio, Florida, and elsewhere, may so amend the law "that Judges of Federal courts in cities having over 20,000 inhabitants, shall be required to appoint one Supervisor for each poll from each of the leading political parties, who shall have the right merely to view the election as it proceeds, and commit to writing such incidents as to them seem worthy of record."

Such officials would be intelligent and credible witnesses in case of any subsequent dispute; but so long as the right of suffrage is bestowed by the separate States, not by the National Government, we want no Federal beef-eaters to arrest or intimidate voters.

Business Outlook.

Wilmington Sun.

We observe with pleasure, that the financial and trade reports from different sections in the Union promise well for the coming year. The feeling throughout the country is cheerful and we may safely look forward to a return of national prosperity at no distant day. When business is fully restored, it will be on a secure and healthy basis.

The South Has Suffered.

Western Sentinel

The Democratic party of the country is now in a position to demand justice and fair dealing. It should no longer be satisfied to gather up the crumbs that fall from the Radical table. When duty demands it, an agressive policy should be adopted which will ring from the enemies of a people's government the inherent rights belonging to sovereign freemen. We have waited long and patiently for the dawn of the day of our deliverence; and now that our enemies no longer hold either House of Congress, it is fondly hoped that a brighter era will soon bring to the whole country the blessings of peace, liberty, and sectional reconciliation. The South has suffered much in waiting; and hope alone has nerved her people to an exercise of heroic fortitude.

PROFOUND POLITICAL PEACE.

Robesonian.

This year is one of profound political peace, but next year will be one of gigantic warfare, and it behooves us now, to build up and perpetuate our political walls. Next year a President is to be elected for the United States, and a Governor, and a complete corps of State officers. There seems to be but little doubt, that the Republicans will nominate Grant, and it is barely possible, that Tilden will be the Democratic nominee.

THE PRINCIPLES OF THE PARTY.

Wilmington Star.

The Democratic party is now the only representative of the grand principles enunciated in the Virginia resolutions of 1798. Mr. Randolph, throughout his life, adhered strictly to those principles. He never wavered. In this he gave all men an excellent example. All men have principles and to these should cling through evil and good report. Thus did John Randolph. It is one thing to hold and maintain principles, and quite another thing to cover up and defend Democrats who violate honor and have no real convictions. Mr. Randolph stood squarely by the great principles of the party he was identified with, but he was no defender of those who disgraced their party and themselves by frauds and corruption.

In the event of the registration of Judge Kerr, whose health is very feeble, the impression seems to be in this community that Col J. I. Scales will be appointed as his successor. The Moral of the Cameron-Oliver Trial.

Springfield Republican.

Simon Cameron's public life is well enough known. Simon Cameron's private life has not been well known, or has been regarded with averted gaze. A trial in Washington has laid bare a part, a very small part, of his private life, and has proved it to be exactly of a piece with his public life. There is no great surprise at this. No one has drawn any moral. No one has considered it necessary to draw a moral. The career of Simon Cameron does not lend itself to point a moral: In a corruption. Sitting for a generation in a Senate full of men wise in politics and ignorant of government, he has been equally and distinguished for his wisdom in the worse and his ignorance of the better knowledge. He has belonged to no party which he has not disgraced But he left public life the undisputed head of a great party in a great state, and the power which he had acquired he safely transmitted to a son whom popular report endows with his father's political vices and equips with few of the qualities which made his father at least a popular politician.

THE DIXIE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY AT WORK—VIEW OF GRANDEUR—THE FAIR WILL BE A SUCCESS—A FEELING FOR RALEIGH—PEACEFUL POLITICS—THE ROBINSON COMMITTEE — THE MORE COTTON THE MORE POVERTY — NO MONEY BUT GOOD CROPS.

Correspondence of the News.

The Executive Committee of the 'Dixie Agricultural and Mechanical Association" took a step on Saturday last which must assure the doubting and croaking ones that

"BUSINESS" IS MEANT.

They purchased the 'Carr's Mount" lands, about midway between the court-house and depot. Probably in the state there is not a finer location for the purpose intended. It is a sort of historic spot—being the scene of the "General Musters" of old times; its elevation above tide water is, with one probable exception, the greatest of any point in the county; and the view from the level plantations (embracing several acres) on top of the mount is magnificent beyond description. A gentleman, who accompanied the committee in their examination remarked that he had visited many of the celebrated mountain peaks of the Carolinas, Virginia and Georgia; but that he had seen nothing to the view before us! Did you think we had such a place in Anson?

SURPASS, IN BEAUTY AND GRANDEUR

Come to our Fair next fall, and if you don't agree that the half had not been told you, I'll "treat." But it's not on the high hills and beautiful scenery alone that the Fair depends for success, apart from such minor considerations, measures are being adopted to render it a pleasant, profitable and useful enterprise.

Our people are pleased to see the hatchet buried between the railroads, and close connection again made at Hamlet. There is a growing feeling here in favor of which should be fostered and encouraged by your business men. Nobody expect it to be the best market in the State; but if convinced that it is as good as any, and as accessible—as now—much trade will go there from this section. Urge your merchants and others to make an effort for it.

Politically, the waters are peace, and a calm serenity prevails. The very sublimated quintescence of dullness is around us; and those to whom the gaudia certaminis is over welcome, look longingly forward to 1880. Now and then a man may be heard to say—"what of the Legislature?" and another will sleepily answer," will it probably did all that could have reasonably been expected of it; let's not condemn in too harshly: there were good men and good workers in it: and good results in many cases will follow it's action. But" and here a very broad, though respectfully subdued grin may be seen—— 'wern't that 'INVESTIGATION' BUSINESS ABOUT THE NEWS the most abominably ridiculous and disgracefully funny pieces of legislation in which a North Carolina Senate ever indulged?" And "yea verily" is the answer! The NEWS is on the right track, the people say it has "the right of way;" and no 'ring' can "switch it off." Selah! The lively state of the cotton market now occurs just at the right time to induce, our ever hopeful planters to go into the crop again. 'Tis ever thus—just about planting time, and in a large majority of instances, under the present system of liens and mortgages, the more cotton a man makes the worse off he is at the end of the year. Men who have money can buy supplies at prices which will justify them in making large cotton crops; but the poor man would do better to make his meat and bread—"live at home"—let guano alone—all, "for the glorious privilege of being independent." "Hard times," askest thou? Well, yes, or words to that effect. I have had occasion to note closely the financial conditions and changes of our section for many years, and I feel very safe in saying that I never saw money so scarce as at present. This is a pretty broad "platform," but the circumstances sustain it, and without one of the most favorable years ever seen, as to crop and prices, next fall and winter will witness many sad scenes of overthrow and disaster.

Wheat and oats look well, some of the former, almost too well, should a late frost occur.

JUDGE SEYMOUR POPULAR—ABSOLUTELY REFRESHING—COURT MATTERS—GOV. JARVIS AND LADY.

GREENVILLE, N. C., March 25.

Correspondence of the News.

Superior Court is in session here, Junge Seymour presiding. He seems to be popular, and yet he is strict in the administration of justice. I have seen so many fellows released upon payment of costs, that it is absolutely refreshing to find a judge occasionally who knows what a penitentiary is built for. There were six capital cases to be tried. The State's Attorney, Capt. Galloway, entered a nol pros in the case of John Rivers. A case of burglary from Bethel was decided by the jury against the S a e, and Levi Dawson was not found guilty of the murder of which he was charged. The trial of Frank Bell (white) and Reuben Harris (colored) for the murder of young Birley near the Greenville Bridge last Fall, is now in progress. Evidence in the case entirely circumstantial. And a case of burglary is to be tried, which is about as follows:

An old negro near town had stored up about $200 in green-backs and a small amount of silver. A negro from Newbern came to his house, and, in the absence of the old man, tore up the floor and took the money. He went to Washington, but the officers of the law followed him and brought him back. I do not believe he will be found guilty, as there is a growing disposition among the people to hang no one. It the punishment for such crimes was imprisonment for life, more would be found guilty.

Gov. Jarvis and lady are here on a visit to their many friends, the Governor having business here during court.

B.

Col. Joe Johnston

"Olivia," the Philadelphia Press's Washington correspondent, describe General Joe Johnston and other Democrats as follows:

Most noticeable of the distinguished men was General Joe Johnston, of Confederate fame, the soldier who delivered his sword to General Sherman. With martial stride he walked up the broad aisle to take the oath of office. Not a tall man, but cast in the Napoleonic mould. Sinewy, well-knit, and finished after the manner or a minnie-rifle ball. In feature somewhat resembling General Sherman, hair and beard apparently prematurely blanched by the battle of life, rather than the years. The members advanced to take the oath at the call of the different States, and it sometimes happened that a division had to be made as they stood before the Speaker. Those who could take the oath as administered north of Mason and Dixon's line stood together, whilst those who had to have the oath fitted to their special case for awhile remained apart. With this number General Joe Johnston found himself. He raised his right hand and looked the Speaker in the eye with that unflinching gaze that betokened an unusual state of mind. His face, as pallid in the beginning as the worn-out cheeks of the moon, began to change as suddenly as might the brow of a vestal maid. The great engine of the vital forces sent the scarlet blood to his head, and when he turned to go to his seat his face was suffused with blushes, such as the writer never saw on man's face before.

But a word about these "Confederates" as they stood apart to take their kind of oath of office. They were a lank, lean, hungry-looking set, yet there was a manliness—a something which no English world will describe—in their make-up denied the caponfed, sensual New York banker. Not a man of them but might be said to belong in the bone and muscle of his country. Should our land be invaded by barbarians from any point of the compass these are the men who will stand by the guns.

CHILLS, SHAKES,

FEVER AND AGUE.

TARBORO, N. C., 1878.

DR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Der Sir,—I feel very grateful for what your valuable medicine, Vegetine, has done in my family. I wish to express my thanks by informing you of the wonderful cure of my son; also, to let you know that Vegetine is the best medicine I ever saw for Chills, Shakes, Fever and Ague. My son was sick with measles in 1873, which left him with Hip-joint disease. My son suffered a great deal of pain, all of the time; the pain was so great he did nothing but cry. The doctors did not help him a particle, he could not lift his foot from the floor, he could not move without crutches. I read your advertisement in the "Louisville Courier-Journal," that Vegetine was a great Blood Purifier and Blood Food. I tried one bottle, which was a great benefit. He kept on with the medicine, gradually gaining. He has taken eighteen bottles in all, and he is completely restored to health, walks without crutches or cane. He is twenty years of age. I have a younger son, fifteen years of age, who is subject to chills. Whenever he feels one coming on, he comes in, takes a dose of Vegetine and that is the last of the Chill. Vegetine leaves no bad effect upon the system like the most of the medicines recommended for Chills. I cheerfully recommend Vegetine for such complaints I think it is the greatest medicine in the world.

Respectfully, MRS. J. W. LLOYD.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

Sanford's Series Analytical Arithmetics

Worcester's Dictionary

Sanford's Series comprises four books, and is based upon the analytic system:

Sanford's First Lessons in Analytical Arithmetic, 16 mo., 27 cents.

Sanford's Intermediate Analytical Arithmetic, 16mo., 232pp. Half bound, 45 cents.

Sanford's Common School Analytical Arithmetic, 355 pp. Half roan, 80 cents.

Sanford's Higher Analytical Arithmetic. 12mo., 415pp. Half roan. Cloth sides, $1.35.

The definitions are clear, and the analyses exhaustive. The work is practical, and abounds in slate exercises. The experience of a large number of the best teachers in this country is that, with Sanford in hand, pupils discover an unwonted enthusiasm in studying the science of numbers.

The Complete Series of Worcester's Dictionaries.

Quarto Dictionary. Illustrated and Unabridged. Library sheep, $10.

Octavo (Universal and Critical,) Dictionary. Library sheep, $4.25.

Academic Dictionary. Crown 8vo. Half roan, $1.85.

Primary Dictionary. Illustrated 16mo. Half roan, 60 cents.

Pocket Dictionary. Illustrated 24mo Cloth 63 cents; roan, flexible, 85 cents, roan, tucks, gilt edges, $1.

Many special aids to students, in addition to a full pronouncing and defining vocabulary, make the above-named books, in the opinion of our most distinguished educators, the most complete as well as by far the cheapest Dictionaries of our language.

Worcester's School Dictionaries are based upon the quarto, which is preferred over all others by eminent scholars and men of letters. The series is admirably adapted to use in Schools, Academies, &c.

Liberal terms for introduction. We desire that Sanford and Worcester be examined by County Boards and principals of private schools. VEST POCKET CURE
25¢ DYSPEPSIA 25¢
CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE.

It is an excellent corrective of Indigestion I have used it with prompt beneficial results.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C.

I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.)

It is endorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapeutical agent.—Edit rs Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va.

Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headaches and all sorts of pains from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are innumerable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, L. L. D. Ham. Sid. Col., Va.

It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and Flatulent Colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperent, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Conf,

About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Falling in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years. I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew For protection from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va.

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints in families from indigestion, I use it and recommend it.

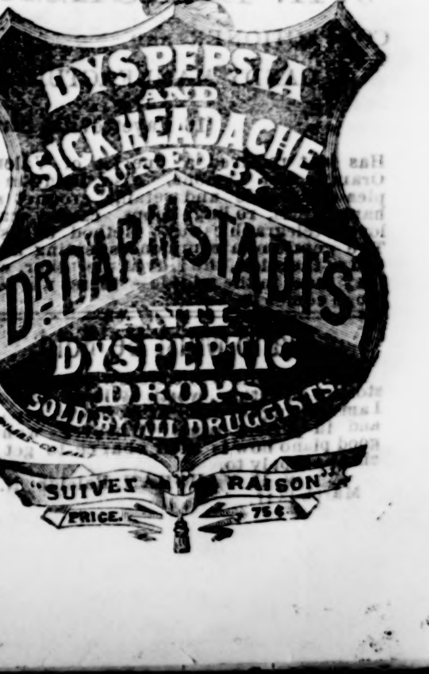

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate.

This remedy is of true virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "National Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get,

The Violet.

From the German of Goethe.

Lonely and sweet a violet grew
The meadow weeds among,
One morn a rosy shepherd maid,
With careless heart and idle tread,
Came by,
Came by
The meadow lands and sung.

"Ah," said the violet, "would I were
Some stately garden flower!
That I might gathered be and pressed
One little hour to her sweet breast.
Ah, me!
Ah, me!
Only one little hour!"

On came the rosy shepherd lass,
With heart that idly beat,
And onrushed the violet in the grass.
It only said, "How sweet!
How sweet?" it said with fainting moan.
"If I must die, to die alone
For her,
For her—
To die at her dear feet."

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

HEPATINE.

LIVER

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

STILLINGIA.

BLOOD

Grave mistakes are made in the treatment of all diseases that arise from poison in the blood. Not one case of Scrofula, Syphilis, White Swelling, Ulcerous Sores and Skin Disease, in a thousand, is treated without the use of Mercury in some form. Mercury rots the bones, and the diseases it produces are worse than any other kind of blood or skin disease can be. DR. PEMBERTON'S STILLINGIA OR QUEEN'S DELIGHT is the only medicine upon which a hope of recovery from Scrofula, Syphilis and Mercurial diseases [illegible] can be reasonably founded, and the [illegible] cure Cancer. $10,000 will be paid by the proprietors if Mercury, or any ingredient not purely vegetable and harmless can be found in it.

WASHINGTON, March 27 —SENATE— There were numerous bills introduced and referred. It was resolved that when the Senate adjourned that it be to Monday next. HOUSE.—The army appropriation bill was this morning introduced by Sparks of Illinois, a member of the appropriation committee in the last House. He stated that it was substantially the bill which had passed the last House with reorganization features stricken out. It retained the clause prohibiting the use of troops at polls. The bill was referred to committee of the whole and the House is now in committee for the purpose of considering it.

The House is considering the army appropriation bill under the five minutes rule. All general debate having been dispensed with except on clauses relating to the use of troops at the polls on which debate will take place later. Judge Lynch.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—A Fort Scott, Kansas, despatch says: Tuesday, Bill Howard, a negro, who cruelly and diabolically outraged Clara Pond, 12 years old, was discovered in an old mine six miles from this city. The prisoner was brought to town and lodged in jail. The excitement was intense, and threats of lynching were made. The crime is so horrible as to be without parallel in criminal history. Last night a crowd of fully fifty thousand, accompanied by thirty masked men with drawn revolvers, took him from the jail, tied a rope around his neck, dragged him five blocks and hung him to a lamp post on the lower public squre. After the hanging, about 15 minutes, there was a cry of "burn him!" "burn him!" They then took the body down, and in spite of resistance and objection of the more calm and peaceable portion of the crowd, roasted and burned it in a fire built of dry goods boxes and coal oil, amid demonstrations that recalled pandemonium.

Another Lynching.

Special Dispatch to the Courier-Journal.

PADUCEH, March 24.—A little twelve year old daughter of J. G. Fields, a well to do farmer, who lives four miles west of Fulton, was ravished by a negro named Jerry Ewing, who was in the employment of Fields. The crime was committed about two weeks ago while the little girl was in the barn hunting eggs, and the negro told her that he would kill her if she ever told of it. Last Saturday, however, she told an older sister, who immediately told her father. T. E. Fields, the girl's brother, started to capture the negro, who attempted to escape, when the brother discharged two shots at him, both taking effect in his arm. He was taken to the residence of D. A. Stanfield, and while being guarded there last night, a party of about twelve masked men, all well armed, went to the house, and demanded and took possession of Ewing. They then took him out and shot him to death, after which they tied a bag of sand to his neck, and threw the body in Obion river. This ended the days of another beast.

A Double Hanging.

EXECUTION OF TWO NEGROES IN VIRGINIA FOR A MURDER ON THE HIGHWAY.

N. Y. World.

TUNSTALLS, Va., March 25.—Patrick Smith and Julius Christian, two negroes convicted of the murder of John C. Lacy (white) on January 17 last, were hanged to-day at New Kent County Court-House. About 2,000 people were present, mostly whites, but quite a number being colored women. The prisoners had been confined in Henrico County Jail, in Richmond, the New Kent Prison having been burned some months ago by a prisoner who lost his life in an attempt to escape by this means. They w re transported this morning by way of the York River Railroad to Summit Station, where a guard of about thirty well-armed mounted men awaited to escort them to the County Court-House. The prisoners displayed to the very end the utmost indifference as to their approaching fate. While on the train they conversed freely with any one addressing them, and when questioned gave an account of the whole crime down to the minutest details, at times laughing at some seemingly ludicrous incident. Upon arriving at the Court-House they were attired in long black shrouds. They were driven to the place of execution, where the impatient crowd received them with execrations. Upon being informed that they could make any statement they wished each one addressed the crowd, acknowledging his guilt, warning all against giving way to temptation, and finally going off into the droning monotone peculiar to the race when quoting Scripture, and giving vent to pious exclamations. The black caps were then drawn over their heads and the next moment the traps were sprung. Christian struggled considerably, but Smith's neck was probably broken, and his struggles were of short duration. In twenty minutes after the trap was sprung the bodies were taken down, that of Smith being immediately buried at the foot of the gallow. Christian's body was sent to his mother.

Elopement Extraordinary.

THE DAUGHTER OF GOV. HUBBARD, OF CONNECTICUT, ELOPES WITH HER FATHER'S COACHMAN.

Hartford dispatch to New York Herald

Hartford's best circles were shocked to-day by the announcement of the elopement of the youngest daughter of ex-Governor Richard D. Hubbard with her father's coachman. In some respects the affair possesses romantic features. The man in the case is Frederick Shepard, a rather fine appearing young fellow of twenty five, of American parentage, and, according to statements of those who know him, of fair reputation. He has been in the employ of Gov. Hubbard for five or six months. The heroine in the case is the Governor's youngest daughter, Nellie, a pretty blonde of nineteen, highly educated and of fascinating manners. Few had suspected any relations toward young Shepard other than might properly exist toward a trusted employee of her father, but some of the gossips noted with suspicion the frequency of their horseback rides, and that she was often riding alone with him in a buggy. None of these suspicions were communicated to the family, and so circumspect were the couple that within the Governor's household they never gave the slightest hint of the union toward which they were drifting. In one respect, at least, young Shepard acted honorably—having won Miss Nellie's affections, he married her legally. The wedding occurred on the 11th instant. The young lady went to New Haven, ostensibly to visit friends, and on reaching there went by the canal road, northward, to Westfield, Mass., where her lover joined her.

The marriage took place either there or in Springfield, accounts differing on this point. Both returned to Hartford immediately, and concealed their secret. On Friday night last Nellie disappeared from home, and on Saturday night it was learned she had left Hartford by train, accompanied by her husband. Scarcely had this news had time to impress itself on the minds of the distressed family when a brother of young Shepard called at the house and exhibited to Governor Hubbard the marriage certificate. While this was in one sense a relief, in another it was mortifying, for it was clear proof the erring daughter had gone too far to warrant any measures to return her to her family. The latter have no definite information up to to-night of the whereabouts of the couple. They are reported to be in New Haven or probably New York, and it is believed that the latter report is correct, as the young lady is so well known in the former city that her appearance on the street would lead to immediate detection.

The Best Men in the South.

Washington Post.

It is not the ex-soldiers of the North who are waving the bloody shirt and trying to rekindle the dying embers of sectional hate. They, as a rule, recognize in the preserved union of the States, with such possibilities of greatness and glory as never opened up before any other nation, the fruition of their patriotic sacrifices. They know that the best men in the South—almost a monopoly of the manhood of that section—went into the rebellion, and that, as a consequence, the ablest men to represent the South in Congress are found among ex-Confederate soldiers.

No Surrender.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

The congress is in extra session, not by the fault of the Democratic party, but by the determination of the Republican party to prevent the repeal of certain obnoxious and outrageous laws. It is proposed in some quarters that the democracy in congress, having both branches, shall surrender what the democracy would not surrender in the last congress, when it had but one branch. If that course is to be pursued, what is the need of getting more than one branch of congress? What, indeed, is the necessity of getting either branch?

A NEW HYMN BOOK.—We have examined the Hymn-Book recently issued, entitled "Calvary Selection of Spiritual Songs," and are pleased with the refreshing variety of hymns, and the carefully studied adaptation of the same to the tunes. It meeets a long-felt want in the churches, viz., a book that shall be equally good for choir use or congregational praise. The general appearance of the book is neat, the music distinctly printed, and the arrangement of hymns and subject of hymns unusually fine, quite out of the ordinary routine. The Celebrated Seven Spring Iron and Alum Mass

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most effiient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache it may be truly said, to have no equal Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetis;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

THE SOUTHERN STUDENTS' HAND-BOOK.—This contribution to our School Literature differs from all the so called "Southern Speakers" heretofore printed, in this:—that its matter is exclusivety of Southern origin. But it makes no attempt at a complete survey of Southern oratory and literature, its chief aim being to represent, as fully as circumstances permit, the "New South" in oratory, dialectic, poetry and general literature, and omitting the hackneyed pieces which for more than half a century have done duty in all the Readers and Speakers in the land, as representative of the "Old South," thus presenting to our Schools a fresh and interesting compilation, illustrative of Southern life, sentiment and thought in their best phases, during the exciting period through which the States have recently passed. A Remedy that has been Remedied.

The invincible repugnance felt by almost every one to the smell and flavor of Cod Liver Oil, has prevented tens of thousands of the victims of debility, from reaping the benefits of its peculiar healing and nutritive properties. The almost hopeless consumptive, the martyr to Rheumatism, the barely living shadow of men, women and children that emerge from the clutches of malarial fevers, all of these know, or at least their doctors know, that of all discovered remedies, this Oil is the best, and often the only one that will build up their wasted bodies, and restore their shattered nerves, and far more effective than the Oil by itself is Scott's Emulsion of it, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. This is the finest and most natural food and medicine in the world, and wholly deprived of its disagreeable qualities. Sold by Wm. Simpson, Druggist.

TO THE PUBLIC.

It will gratify the many friends and customers of the house of Petty & Jones to know that its affairs are in sound and healthy condition.

They have always, are now doing, and will continue to pay one hundred cents in the dollar, (10 cents to $10).

They set their faces like flint to do this as a matter of high commercial principle

They challenge the praise approbation and patronage, of all people who love fair and square dealing and cheap goods.

They are doing a largely increasing and increased business.

Their JOBBING TRADE has showed a large advance.

They have sold more goods by the case, package, and piece, the past season than ever before.

The management is strictly on the plan of the large and successful dry goods houses of our large cities.

They buy often At first hands. Pay cash and are receiving new goods every week.

They will from this time be in receipt of a varied assortment of select goods of the best makes suitable for the market to which they invite the attention and inspection of buyers, wholesale and retail.
